RESEARCH/PROJECT EXPERIENCE

- Machine Learning Methods in Online Portfolio Selection Problems 2023-2024
Supervisor: Prof. Ching Wai Ki(HKU)
This project investigated the integration of machine learning models, specifically LSTM and XGBoost, to predict asset prices for Online Portfolio Selection strategies.
- A Comparative Study of Algorithms for the Travelling Salesman Problem 2024-2025
Supervisor: Prof. Zang Wenan(HKU)
Compared classical heuristics against hybrid reinforcement learning models for the Euclidean TSP, demonstrating that an Actor-Critic agent integrated with classical methods achieves competitive performance.
- Inferring Progressive Disconnection in Alzheimer's Disease with PBNs 2025
Supervisor: Prof. Zhang Louxin (NUS)
Developed a novel Probabilistic Boolean Network (PBN) framework to model effective connectivity in fMRI data, identifying a progressive disconnection of DMN-to-MTL pathways in Alzheimer's disease.
- A PBN-RL-XAI Framework for Therapeutic Discovery in Melanoma 2025
Independent Research
Developed an integrated PBN-RL-XAI framework to discover therapeutic strategies for immunotherapy-resistant melanoma, identifying a novel 'hit-and-run' inhibition of LOXL2.
